WHITNEY NEWS

Whitney Wolves stick together as a PACK; we are Positive, Accountable, Careful and Kind every day in every way.

- Positive: I will have a growth mindset.
- Accountable: I will take responsibility for my own words and actions.
- Careful: I will be safe at all times.
- Kind: I will be respectful of others.

PBIS Student-Led Assembly Highlights

- Eli Whitney is very lucky to have another author come visit the school on October 7th at 10:15 am. Brandon Mull is the author of the books Fablehaven, Beholders and Five Kingdom series. He will also be at Barnes and Noble that evening for a book signing at 6:00 pm.

- Student Howls: Students are able to recognize other students who show PACK Pride by completing a Whitney Howl. The student can give it to the student and that student can turn in the Howl into the main office or the student who completed the Howl can turn in into the main office. The Howl will be announced during the next day's morning announcements and it will be posted on the Whitney Howl bulletin board. At the end of the month, students will be randomly selected and announced during the morning announcement to come to the main office to earn a prize from the prize box.

This year they are using Rowley from the Diary of a Wimpy Kid series to help promote recycling. We also recycle dried up markers. Students can bring dried markers to the art room and put them in the Colorcycle Marker bin.

- The math department has kicked off the Problem of the Month program. This year's theme is the Olympics. Students can participate by completing math problems each month. Students who completed the problems will be invited to participate in Math Olympic activities with Mrs. Bellefronte.
